

PHD PROGRAMS

Bentley offers two programs that feature a fresh approach to doctoral study. The programs, in accountancy and business, are centered squarely on students' career interests and plans, and given the demands of an increasingly technological global economy, have a thematic focus on business, technology and society.