

MINOR IN SOCIOLOGY

The Minor in Sociology provides a focus in the study of social relations. Areas of study may include topics such as social interaction, mass communications, and cross-cultural studies.

For further information about policies related to minors, see the Program Policies (catalog.bentley.edu/undergraduate/degree-requirements/#minorspolicies) page.

Course	Title	Credits
Four courses in Sociology		12
Total Credits		12